ardent advocate of the free expression of the Negro people by publishing the poems of Claude McKay. The editors of the "Liberator," Max Eastman and Floyd Dell, had just won out against the government in a fight for free speech for which their revolutionary organ "The Masses," had been suppressed. The "Liberator" was started as a result and in carrying on its crusade for radical internationalism in human relationship it has valiantly striven to encourage the Negro race in its social and artistic struggle by fighting against lynching, peonage, and discrimination and printing prose and poetry written by Negroes themselves.

PROMINENT TAILORS OPEN MILL CITY STORE

The English Woolen Mills, prominent tailors with a chain of stores throughout the country, have now located one of their branches in Minneapolis at 331 Hennepin avenue, with a complete line of woolsens. They are featuring this season tweed suits made-to-your measure at $27 to $33. Mr. Krosner, manager of the store, was formerly connected with one of the company's Chicago stores where he made many friends. He is assisted by Mr. Racone of St. Paul. Both gentlemen are practical and capable in their line of business.—Adv.

Somebody Wuz Sayin' that—

E. K. is having mysterious dreams about H. G. but he is looking after the pretty girls. It will be wonderful day for D. H. when she will not be teased about J. H. Mrs. J. F. is now entertaining her friends with joy-rides in her new "Rolls-Royce." It will soon be bum business for the rental agencies if people continue to buy homes as during the recent rush. You will be able to tell who misses the first Boat Excursion because everybody will be there. It won't be long before "down the Mississippi" will be the only place to go. Don't forget the Daughter Elk's dinner at Pioneer Hall Friday night.—Adv.

Wills Plans to Box Dempsey in London

Wills and His Manager Has Passage Booked for England to Challenge Champion.

(Associated Negro Press)
New York, N. Y., May 12.—(Special)—Convinced that it would be impossible to stage the battle in this country, Paddy Mullins, manager of Harry Wills, has booked passage for England and will sail with Wills to challenge Jack Dempsey. William A. Brady is behind the Wills venture. He probably will be a member of the party. On behalf of Charles A. Cochran, the London promoter, Brady has made an offer to Wills to meet Dempsey in London, where there would be no opposition to a mixed battle.

Uptown to Play Shakopee Legion on May 28th

The Uptown Sanitary Baseball team will play the Shakopee Legion nine at Shakopee, Minn., Sunday afternoon, May 28. The game will be the first officially scheduled game of the season to be played by the Uptowns. The Shakopee Legion team, one of the hottest nines in the state is composed of players of no little ability and the Colored boys will have to step to win. However, the Uptowns have enrolled several new players and with the abundance of material he has to work with, Coach Ware, is rounding into shape a team capable of holding its own with any. According to the management, the team will be taken to Shakopee by special busses and because of the number of followers of the team who expressed their desire to make the trip and attend the game, another bus has been engaged. The trip to Shakopee is great. Now if you want to back up your own home town team, make reservations now for your transportation by calling the Bulletin office. BOUTS WANTED FOR MAN IN MIDDLEWEIGHT CLASS

Thann Travis, manager of Lawrence Tucker, a middleweight St. Paul boxer, wishes to place his protegee on a card with any fighter in the 157 pound class. Travis is now negotiating for a bout with "Fighting Spady," one of the toughest colored middleweights in the West, to be held in Omaha on June 2. On the same card will be Kid Norfolk and Sam Taylor, two widely known fighters in the pugilistic world.

HOUSE FAMINE HERE TO CURTAIL MOVING

The usual May 1 moving trek will not be as heavy this year as usual, according to real estate agents. The reason given is that there is no place to go. There are no houses and although some apartments are available the number is not large. Houses figure chiefly in the May 1 movings, and apartments in the migration September 1. The movement to the lakes does not amount to much from the real estate people's standpoint, as most of the movers own their own homes. Rents are remaining stationary, in spite of reports from time to time that they were coming down. This is true of both residences and stores. The moving season is not so quiet, however, as to have spared the van companies all the excitement that attends the closing days of April. A number of companies are unable to take further orders for movings that have to be completed by May 1. The Sabbath will be broken in a good many cases on account of the fact that the last day of the month falls on Sunday. —Pioneer Press.

One of the new inventions for the home is the Brenco Gas Heater Control, an electrical appliance which is attached to your small gas heater which you now have to light with a match. With the Brenco Gas Heater Control all you have to do, if you are in the bathroom, bedroom, or kitchen, is to "press the button" and you have all the hot water that you want. Saves miles and miles of steps.—Adv.
